“To Bring Forth” – Education, Ministry and Renewal

How can Friends today rediscover and reclaim the kindling fire that animated the first generations of the Quaker Movement?

What is the testimony of Quakers in our world today?

Noah Merrill is a member of Putney Friends Meeting in Vermont. He travels widely in the ministry, offering messages at Friends' gatherings and beyond; seeking to encourage faithfulness; and nurturing the integration of worship and witness in the Quaker movement. Noah brings experience as a team leader in AmeriCorps, the U.S. national community service program, where he coordinated violence-prevention and leadership education programs for at-risk youth. He has served with the American Friends Service Committee in a range of roles from community organizing to policy advocacy. From 2006-2010, he established and directed a medical aid effort supporting Iraqi refugees in the Middle East.
